Health for the skin and hair microbiome,
with natural polyphenols.

Health for the skin and hair microbiome, with natural polyphenols
“When you know it, it matters to you and when it matters to you, you protect it”

GREEN CHEMISTRY

- We trust in the power of nature to care for skin and hair.
- We believe in cosmetics that respect our microbiome and the environment.
- Tahe Nature creates formulas with natural polyphenols, the most powerful antioxidants in the plant world.
- Natural polyphenols act as a natural preservative in the formula and as a prebiotic, nourishing and protecting the microbiome.

PURE PEPTIDES

Hair repair biotechnology

Hair's Cellular Membrane Complex (CMC) is made up of 18 amino acids and is found in the non-keratinous region, which consolidates the cuticle, joining it to the cortex (the deepest part) as an intercellular cement that provides strength, cohesion and elasticity in a natural way.

Nature Pure Peptide contains in its formula an exclusive mixture of Amino acids such as Wheat, Soy and Keratin, following the model of Amino acids that constitute cortex proteins.

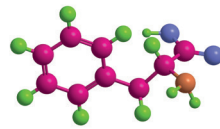

This mixture of Amino acids forms the structure of the exclusive Nature Peptides, with a low molecular weight and, therefore, a very high capacity for cuticular penetration, as well as a regulating effect on capillary hydration in two directions. This last quality is attributed to the formation of a permeable protective protein film on the surface of the hair.
